

I am a resident of Indiana who uses Indiana's telephone Privacy law and I would not support any proposal that would lessen its effectiveness. I used to receive so many unsolicited calls at home that I had to use my answering machine to screen my calls. After the first few months of using Indiana's law the calls dropped to only one every couple of months. This has been really great and I can answer my phone again. I should mention that I never did any business with the organizations that called me and in addition I formed very negative opinions of them. Thank you for your consideration.
